- VII Committee Reports-

ASE- We are gearing up for the Winter ASE which starts Feb. 8. We are excited for some new and fun classes to be offered this session which include, jewelry making, legos, school of rock, jump rope, tree climbing, sewing, game design, tennis, chess, yoga, dodgeball and sports spectacular. Flyers will be distributed in January to students.

Community Service- Food drive sign up filled up right away. Will send up a sign up genius for the sorting after school on Tuesday next week and will deliver during the school day next Wednesday. The field trip is this Thursday and Friday. Lost and Found will be donated soon.

Holiday Kids Corner- Felt that it went smoothly; there were a few concerns about the length of the lines. It would be nice to have students who were staying sent to the same place- a designated spot.

Yearbook- looking for fall pictures- yearbook @tes.gmail

Square 1- We ended up with a 61% participation rate, which was wonderful! Many thanks all who helped get the word out via Facebook, Signals and room parent emails. Merchandise should come in on or about December 5th and we will work to get it to classroom teachers as soon as possible.

SEATS- The day before Thanksgiving break nationally known author, Greg Tang, visited TES. He has written many math oriented picture books for children. He modeled new ways to think about solving math and got the students engaged in math. Both students and teachers seemed to really enjoy his visit and I encourage all parents to visit his website gregtangmath.com for fun and free math games that will build math fluency. This month SEATS is funding the first grade program, BEARS, OH MY—an in-class visit from the Virginia Living Museum and they will be bringing a variety of animals with them for students to learn about.
